Central Hobart Plan

A structure plan to guide growth & development

Key elements of the draft 'Plan' have been summarised into fact sheets. Please refer to the full draft structure plan available at yoursay.hobartcity.com.au

The Plan identifies and supports Hobart's Community Vision, identity, goals and aspirations into the future (see section 1.3 of the draft Plan).

Future story

In 20 years, Hobart is a vibrant hub of activity. It is internationally celebrated for the integration of its distinctive built and natural heritage with new assets that strengthen its role as Tasmania's innovative cultural, creative, educational and business capital.

It has a mix of medium-rise apartments and other housing options for different needs and incomes. These are intermingled with community spaces, workplaces, shops, galleries, recreation spaces, restaurants and cafes to create an inclusive and exciting place to live.

The knowledge economy in Central Hobart is thriving. A diversity of new spaces has encouraged businesses to start up, grow and evolve; innovation clusters have developed from the vibrancy of workers, creatives, academics and students living and interacting in the city.

The visitor experience is enhanced with excellent wayfinding, playful urban architecture, plenty of events, and great pedestrian links between the many attractions.

Strong support for the arts community has ensured that Hobart continues to attract international attention as a thriving cultural centre. A wide range of creative arts and events are strengthening communities, improving personal wellbeing, and injecting substantial financial returns to the local economy and the state.

A range of high quality community services and facilities are available. They address the needs of the growing and diverse community including those of the young, seniors, families and people with diverse cultural backgrounds.

Please refer to the full structure plan for more information.
